Can't Lose 'Em All —Lions Beat Calgary

VANCOUVER—More than 18,500 B.C. Lions football fans stayed right in their Empire Stadium seats last night until the final gun had sounded before they believed what had happened—the Lions defeated Calgary, 15-14. It was the Lions' first win in 11 games this season, and their first since Oct. 14 of last year.

Hearing Goes On

Rate Block Fails

OTTAWA (UPI)—A demand by eight provinces that the Board of Transport Commissioners throw out an application by Canada's two major railways for increased freight rates was rejected yesterday.

Assistant commissioner-elect Roderick Kerr said, "We consider that the board has jurisdiction to hear the application and to grant such relief if any as we feel just and proper."

'LABOR BOARD'

The provinces had protested the application on the grounds that the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways were making a "quasi-labor relations board" out of the five commissioners.

When Kerr ruled against the provinces, counsel for British Columbia and Alberta said they would take no further part in the hearings but would remain only to see how the railways will apply any increase they might receive.

'ABDICATING'

In a series of strongly worded submissions, counsel for all provinces except Ontario and Quebec told the opening hearing on the application for a 19-per-cent freight rate increase that the two railways were "abdicating managerial responsibility" in asking the board in effect to rule on the companies' current wage disputes with 130,000 non-operating employees.

'NEEDED FOR WAGES'

In their application, the CNR and CPR said that the rate increase was necessary to meet a federal conciliation board recommendation for wage increase which the companies say would cost them $68,000,000 in the present fiscal year. The 15 unions involved have said they will strike if the recommendations are not met.

A CNR spokesman said Monday that if the railway does not receive a rate increase to cover the wage settlement it will face an unprecedented deficit of $64,000,000 in 1958.

POPE RALLIES STRONGLY MILLIONS OFFER PRAYERS

Pulls Out of Coma Speaks Few Words

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius was believed to be rallying early today from his second grave illness in four years.

The first Tuesday bulletin said he was "slightly better."

The last official word before that was encouraging. Millions prayed for his life. The Roman Catholic leader suffered a stroke Monday. He lapsed into a coma, then rallied and was "appreciably improved" by nightfall.

The Pontiff's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, told reporters at 10:25 p.m. Monday: "The Pope is improving."

Shortly after midnight a papal attendant emerged from the Pontiff's apartment and repeated the doctor's word that the Pope had shown some improvement. He said the Pope spoke a few words and then fell asleep.

He said earlier in the evening the Pope was able to speak.

An evening medical bulletin said the 82-year-old leader of the Roman Catholic Church once more had shown the remarkable stamina that brought him through a grave illness four years ago.

PARTLY PARALYZED

Vatican sources said earlier the Pontiff was partly paralyzed by the stroke. But it was not known whether this condition persisted. The medical bulletin made no reference to paralysis.

"Since the medical bulletin issued this morning," the night bulletin said, "the condition of the Holy Father has appreciably improved, insofar as it concerns the circulatory disturbances of this morning."

'URGENT TREATMENT'

"Most opportune and urgent treatment has been carried out. The constitution of the Holy Father has shown once again its great resistance. There is need for further observation before issue of a final prognosis."

Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, his personal physician, signed the medical bulletin. Another signer was Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, a stomach specialist from Bologna.

Monday morning, when things looked bleakest, Gasbarrini had come away from the Pontiff's bedside and told waiting reporters:

"All is in the hands of God."

There were reports the Pope had received extreme unction, the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Normally such rites would be administered as a matter of course to a Catholic in danger of death.

The first heartening news came shortly after noon from Magr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, Vatican substitute state secretary. He said the Pope had shown a slight improvement at noon. He added, however, that it "would be absurd to say anything more explicit; the Pope's condition naturally continues to be grave."

ROUSED BRIEFLY

Other reports said the pontiff had roused briefly from the coma about noon, opened his eyes—and murmured a few words.

These reports, which could not be confirmed, said he asked to be returned to the Vatican as soon as possible.

Early Monday morning, although weary and troubled by gastritis and attendant hiccoughs that had taken a toll of his energies, he was able to say mass at his little private chapel and to receive holy communion. He had been suffering for several days from gastritis, the stomach ailment that brought him close to death in 1954.

Then, just as he was to begin his daily work, he was struck down.

These reports, which could not be confirmed, said he asked to be returned to the Vatican as soon as possible.

Call Broadcast

Catholic World Prays

ROME (AP)—Around the world, in tiny churches and great cathedrals, Roman Catholics prayed Monday night for the recovery of the Pope.

As the Pontiff lay gravely ill in his summer residence of Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, the Vatican radio broadcast a call for world-wide prayers.

Special prayers were said in Liverpool and Tokyo, Bogota and Vienna, New York, Toronto and Paris and elsewhere.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Roman Catholic Archbishop W. M. Duke yesterday ordered special prayers for the health of Pope Pius XII in the 61 churches of the Vancouver archdiocese.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Episcopalian leaders at the triennial Episcopal general convention bowed in prayer Monday for the recovery of stricken Pope Pius, primate of the Roman Catholic Church.

ROME (AP)—Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals, flew into Rome yesterday to direct emergency affairs of the Roman Catholic Church during the Pope's illness.

These reports, which could not be confirmed, said he asked to be returned to the Vatican as soon as possible.

TCA Says Competition Will Plunge It into Red

'Subversive'

Bitter denunciation of Arkansas officials for thwarting school integration in Little Rock marked the opening of the U.S. Supreme Court term yesterday. Justice Felix Frankfurter said the defiance was "profoundly subversive not only of our constitutional system but of the presuppositions of a democratic society."

Convoys Stop If Shells Do

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter indicated yesterday the United States would stop convoying Chinese Nationalist supplies to Quemoy and Matsu if Red China permanently halted its bombardment of the offshore islands.

He said there would seem to be no further need for the U.S. convoys if a seven-day suspension of the Quemoy bombardment, announced Sunday by the Chinese Communists, led to a permanent halt in the attacks.

CPA Makes Bid to Share Cross-Country Franchise

VANCOUVER (CP)—Trans-Canada Air Lines says it will go deeply into the red if it has to compete on transcontinental air routes.

Canadian Pacific Airlines, which wants in on TCA's exclusive cross-country franchise, says the government-owned corporation is well able to bear the "very limited volume" of competition which CPA proposes.

PWA WITHDRAWS

The respective positions were outlined by spokesmen for the two carriers at a hearing before the air transport board in the Hotel Vancouver Monday.

Pacific Western Airlines, which had also wanted a piece of the lucrative transcontinental business, asked the board at the outset of Monday's hearing for permission to withdraw its application.

REQUEST GRANTED

The request was granted by C. D. Shepard, chairman, despite objections by TCA counsel J. G. Edison, who said the board should conduct a side hearing on whether "some deal or arrangement" had animated the request for withdrawal.

Mr. Edison, for TCA, said the transcontinental route is the airline's only profitable one in Canada.

PAYS FOR LOSSES

Profits from the transcontinental and overseas routes paid for losses incurred on all its other routes with the exception of one trans-border operation.

Whereas TCA has almost always enjoyed a modest profit, evidence would be presented to show that it would lose $30,000,000 in the first three years of competition, Mr. Edison said.

MOUNTING DEFICIT

The loss would be $8,000,000 in 1959, more than $12,000,000 in 1960 and as much as $15,000,000 in 1961.

TCA was not opposed to competition in principle. It already faced competition over much more than half its route mileage. There was no difference in service between those routes where TCA held an exclusive franchise and those on which it faced competition.

If it led to greater efficiency and lower fares, competition would be desirable. But if it produced over-expansion and division of the market before the market was ready, it would impose a heavy burden on the carriers and all concerned.

J. F. Clark, chief solicitor for CPA, said that in its application Canadian Pacific had tried to avoid duplicating TCA's routes, "although in view of its intricate route pattern that objective could not always be achieved."

TOURIST SERVICE

Canadian Pacific contemplated daily services using DC-6B aircraft, with accommodation being largely tourist, heretofore tourist traffic had had to rely on much older types of aircraft.

"Our proposal therefore would have the effect of expanding very considerably the tourist accommodation offered to the travelling public. At the same time it would upgrade the quality of tourist service by the use of modern aircraft."

Lost Experts Found Safe

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Three electronics technicians, missing since Sept. 26 on a flight over wilderness to the coastal town of Unalakleet, were reported found in reasonably good condition Monday, just a few miles from their wrecked plane.

Baptists Battle Bottle

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The Baptist Federation of Canada, in the closing session of its annual meeting here Monday, reaffirmed its strong opposition to all forms of gambling and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

In resolutions, the council issued an appeal to "churches, service clubs and other charitable and philanthropic societies in Canada not to countenance or promote gambling practices under their auspices for the raising of funds."

"We continue to voice our opposition to the manufacture, sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, especially as affecting the youth of Canada."

Men of Mid-East Force

'Forgotten Canadian'

BARRIE, Ont. (CP)—A corporal in the Royal Canadian Army Signal Corps who recently returned from Egypt says he believes Canadians have forgotten the 1,200-man Canadian force in the Middle East.

Cpl. Gene Lewicki, here on leave after a year with the Canadian contingent of the United Nations Emergency Force in Egypt, said in an interview:

"We have the largest contingent of any country serving with UNEF, yet the Canadians do not have the same welfare as the other countries. A Swede can buy articles such as a camera off the shelf in his canteen, but a Canadian has to order what he wants and wait until it is shipped out from here."

"It's no paradise out there," he said. "It is a very long year after the novelty has worn off."

"There are too many prisoners coming before the appellate division of the court claiming that police had forced a plea of guilty."

"He made his remarks after evidence police would 'make it easier' for two men if they pleaded guilty."

Formosa Gets Deadly Nikes

Tactical Force Doomed

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCAF's tactical air command will be absorbed by transport command in January, Defence Minister Pearkes announced Monday.

Tactical air command headquarters at Edmonton will be disbanded Jan. 1, 1959, and the 1,800 personnel in the command shifted to other jobs.

Actually, this command has never controlled any regular RCAF squadrons.

Mr. Pearkes said the reorganization would result in "considerable savings in personnel without any loss in operational effectiveness."

'Worst Is Over'

The worst of the recession is over and there are "clear signs of a turn upwards," Ontario's Premier Leslie Frost said yesterday. He was addressing the Ontario Federation of Labor at its annual convention in Toronto.

Special prayers for the Pope, who is reported seriously ill, are being held four times a day at St. Andrew's Cathedral, a spokesman said last night.

The prayers are said during regular Mass at 7 a.m., 8 a.m., 12.15 p.m. and during rosary devotions and benediction at 7.30 p.m.

I Was Hungry All the Time

(This is the 36th chapter of "The Strangers," a searching report on the plight of B.C. native Indians.)

The first teachers were sent to the Indians by the churches. Religion is still woven into the fabric of Indian education. There is a sharp disagreement between the people who want to root out the religious influence from Indian schools, and the people who want to keep it.

Religious denomination is an important factor in determining what teacher the child will have and what school he will attend. Section 120 of the Indian Act orders that where the majority of the members of a band belong to one religious denomination, the school on the reserve shall be taught by a teacher of that denomination. A religious minority may petition for a separate school or classrooms.

Section 117 says that no Protestant child may be assigned to a Catholic school, or a Catholic child to a Protestant school, unless the parents agree. The parents seldom do give their consent to such a move. Most Indian villages are one-church villages. Church membership is handed down from generation to generation.

Hundreds of Miles

Catholic youngsters sometimes travel hundreds of miles to attend residential schools of their denomination, rather than go to a non-denominational high school or a Protestant residential school near their home villages.

However, a devout Catholic may argue that no distance is too far to travel if the spiritual welfare of a human being is at stake.

2,660 Pupils

At the end of last year there were 2,660 Indian pupils enrolled in 14 residential schools in B.C. and one in the Yukon. There were 3,170 pupils attending 74 separate Indian day schools and three hospital schools in B.C. and the Yukon; and 2,300 students attending either provincial schools or Catholic parochial schools along with white children. There were 880 students in provincial high schools.

British Columbia was far ahead of any other province in the integration of Indians in the schools. Only Ontario, which had 1,500 odd Indian youngsters going to school with whites, was even close.

Two residential schools in B.C. and one in the Yukon are run by the Anglican Church; one by the United Church; and 11 by the Catholic Church—10 of these by the Oblate Fathers. There are four residential schools on or near Vancouver Island: Alberni (United Church, enrolment 300); St. Michael's, Alert Bay (Anglican, 235); Kuper Island (Catholic, 140); and Christie School, near Tofino (Catholic, 150).

Small Grants

At one time, churches owned and operated the residential schools with small government subsidies. Now most of the residential schools are owned and largely financed by the federal government, but administered by the churches.

Many residential schools had farms attached. Boys spent only half the day in studies, the rest of the day on farm chores. Girls spent half their day in domestic chores.

Numbers of middle-aged Indian men and women now speak bitterly of meagre food, drudgery and substandard teaching in the residential schools.

They Sold It

"They raised eggs and milk, but they sold it," I was informed by a Saanich Indian who attended Kuper Island School in the bad old days, when it was run on a policy of hard work and extreme thrift. "We never saw any of the milk. Maybe there would be one egg on Easter Sunday."

"I was hungry all the time. Lunch would be bread and syrup. A slice of bread at 4 o'clock. Supper at 6, sometimes jam, bread and tea. Sometimes boiled cabbage and bread. No meat. And beans. School about three hours a day. The rest of the time you'd work in the fields or pray."

With all the defects that some of the residential schools used to have, however, they gave some sort of education to many children who otherwise would not have attended school at all. There was a time when missionaries were the only people interested enough in Indians to provide them an education, or relieve their sickness.

Revolution

In recent years there has been a revolution in Indian policy. The federal government now strongly discourages any attempt to make the schools self-contained units by the use of children as farm labor. Some schools still have farms, but these are run by a paid staff. Nevertheless, boys and girls still have plenty of chores to do in spare time.

Indian children now get a full program of instruction, according to the provincial curriculum. Teachers are better paid than they were. The food in residential schools has improved. Many Indian students simply live at the residential schools and go out every day to provincial schools with white children. The government now looks with favor upon the integration of Indian students into "white" schools.

Pay the Fees

Up to the end of the 1939-45 war, only scattered Indian pupils attended public schools. They were the children of particularly aggressive people who were able to break through the barrier of prejudice and pay the fees that were demanded of people who lived outside the school districts. Reserves were not within school districts. School tax or any other tax could not be levied on reserve land, unless it was leased out. This rule remains in force.

In the course of the post-war revolution in Indian affairs, the B.C. Public Schools Act was amended in 1949 to make it easy for Indian children to attend ordinary schools. Since that time the Indian affairs branch has made agreements with a number of B.C. school boards, men, believe that it is highly important to bring Indians and whites together in childhood, and they feel that such integration can best be achieved in the provincial public schools.

Time Has Come

churches to step out of Indian education," says the Rev. E. J. Staley, former principal of a United Church Indian residential school in Edmonton, now a clergyman in Victoria.

"Indian education should become non-denominational," says A. E. Caldwell, principal of the United Church Indian residential school at Alberni.

Neither of them, privately has any hope that the Catholics will come round to non-Catholic point-of-view. However they are wise to rant and fume against the Catholics.

The disagreement between Catholics and non-Catholics about Indian schools has been fogged over by emotion. Some people are so impatient with the Catholic viewpoint that they turn off their brains and lapse into shouts and slogans as soon as the topic comes up.

Catholic View

The Catholic view of Indian education is part of its attitude toward all education. Catholics are unwilling to separate religious and secular matters into two compartments. They look upon life as a unit in which religion is an essential part.

Non-Catholics tend to keep education secular, and leave religion to the conscience of each family. Some agnostics and militant atheists believe all religious teaching to be harmful, and are trying to stamp it out, not only in the schools, but everywhere. Some devout Protestants, including clergy

Don't Attend

Similar agreements are in force in a number of school districts across Canada. There are many districts in which no agreements exist. There, Indian children attend day schools, private schools or residential schools. A few still do not attend school at all. Father J. Alex Morris, principal of the Oblate Fathers' residential school near Williams Lake, estimates that some 130 Indian children in his region are not attending school.

Teachers in the day schools are civil servants paid by the federal government but often nominated by the religious group that forms the majority in the village.

A faction of people on Victoria's Songhees reserve staged a minor revolt a few years ago against the religious influence in Indian schooling. They refused to send their children to the little Catholic Songhees' school, arguing that as long as the children were kept separate from whites, they had no chance to make any progress.

Cut Connection

To make their point stick, a few people actually severed their connection with the Catholic Church. They sent their children to the nearby Craigflower public school. The little Songhees' school is still running, the centre of a continuing dispute between the two factions. Comparatively few Indian children attend Victoria public schools. Last term there were eight at Craigflower; three at George Jay; one at James Bay; two at South Park; three at Central Junior High and one at Colquitz Junior High. (Two Eskimo children, adopted by a white Victoria family, were attending Sir James Douglas.)

Far Points

Some Indian students attend school in Saanich and Cowichan districts. Substantial numbers attend in Nanaimo, the Alberni and at Alert Bay on Cormorant Island. At Nanaimo, the

$500,000 Subdivision Set Near Mount Douglas Park

Forty-six homes will be built in a subdivision off Blenkinsop Road to be known as Mount Douglas Gardens, the agent for the half-million-dollar development announced yesterday.

Construction of the first 10 homes will be started within two weeks by Scandia Construction of New Westminster, which has bought the subdivision, according to Taylor Spittal Ltd., the agent.

The two-and three-bedroom homes will be available in six different basic designs.

The subdivision, just southwest of the southerly tip of Mount Douglas Park, will be served by its own U-shaped road, Pearce Crescent.

A $22,500 subdivision development is also planned along Parker Road, Cordova Bay, by William Mattick, 5273 Cordova Bay Road.

The five-acre site consists of 18 lots of a total frontage of 1,500 feet on Parker.

Mr. Mattick received tentative approval for the subdivision at a meeting of Saanich council's public works committee last night.

Maverick Captured At Last

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Maverick, a stray doberman pinscher who won the respect of two dog-catchers who spent four years trying to capture him, is scheduled to die Thursday.

The cunning, 75-pound animal eluded the dog-catcher's net, drugged food and the most subtle traps the animal regulation department could set for him during the years.

But last week he was finally captured by dog-catchers using a special gun loaded with a tranquilizing charge.

Animal regulation department supervisor Roy M. McGowan said when a trap of drugged meat was laid for Maverick the meat was eaten but the tranquilizing pills were dropped to the ground.

Another time, when a female doberman was placed in a wire trap, Maverick clawed the back of the trap out so the female could join him.

The city spent an estimated $1,000 to catch Maverick, McGowan said, and if he is not adopted by Thursday he will be destroyed.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

Toronto, Ont. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure, stuffy nose, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the annoying symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished quickly and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful typically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan Tablets.

Dristan Tablets cost only $1.25 for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Span Platform 'Useless'

Worker Blames Collapse on Incompetence

VANCOUVER (CP)—John W. Williamson, a veteran bridge worker, testified Monday that a temporary platform blamed for the collapse of Second Narrows Bridge was "absolutely useless."

"This is the voice of experience of an iron worker," Mr. Williamson told commissioner Chief Justice Sherwood Lett.

"We have to be competent and I am trying to say that there was no competency."

The platform consisted of four beams resting on two sets of pilings.

"Bad judgment caused all this," Mr. Williamson said. "Even a minor bridge man would not think of putting a thing like that in."

The beams were unnecessary, he said. Two sets of pilings could have been used without them.

Eighteen workers died in the collapse of the bridge June 17.

Counsel protested and Chief Justice Lett said he did not think Mr. Williamson was qualified to make such statements.

"The statements are most improper," said commission counsel W. J. Wallace.

"The inquiry should put no credence in the testimony," said

Earlier testimony was that an error in calculating the stress which the platform holding the temporary support could take was responsible for the collapse.

The errors, it was testified, were made by a junior engineer and the project engineer. Both men were killed in the collapse. "I don't believe the persons said to be responsible were responsible," said Mr. Williamson.

'Yard' Aces in Cyprus

By BERT MARSH

LONDON (UPI)—Scotland Yard has ordered its "terror twins" to fly to Cyprus to "get" the elusive Colonel Grivas, leader of the anti-British EOKA terrorist organization.

Chief Detective-Inspector

Thomas Butler and Detective-Inspector Peter Vibart, two of the Yard's top detectives, were sent to Cyprus' police to find Grivas and smash EOKA.

"Both these men have unparalleled experience in the art of interrogation," a spokesman for Scotland Yard said. "They know when a man is lying. They know the tricks which put criminals off their guard. If they are successful, it could be that one or more Yard men might join them."

The order sending the two men to Cyprus followed a plea by Cyprus Governor Sir Hugh Foot, who blamed EOKA for the death last week of a British army sergeant's wife, Mrs.

Catharine Cutcliffe—the mother of five children.

The murder outside a food market in Famagusta raised an angry outcry in Britain and a declaration of vengeance among British soldiers on Cyprus.

Meanwhile, the wave of bloody violence mounted as Britons buried the soldier's wife.

Four British soldiers were injured, one severely, when terrorists blew up an army vehicle—with electrically detonated mines near Tsadha, in western Cyprus.

A Greek Cypriot was killed by British gunfire at Lefkonia in eastern Cyprus after a bomb exploded near a troop truck. Another Greek Cypriot, a night watchman near Lakatamia village, was shot to death by masked gunmen.

Sweden's production of paints has an average value of $40,000,000 annually.

Full Speed Ahead, Ship Lurches Back

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Spanish merchant ship made maritime history here Saturday. It went forward backwards.

Leaving the yard of the Norfolk Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, the captain of the Notommar telegraphed the engine room to go ahead.

The Notommar promptly shot backward to dent the side of a navy destroyer moored across the Elizabeth River.

Further efforts showed that any attempt to move the vessel ahead put her in reverse instead.

Towed back to the shipyard, it was discovered that her propellers had been mounted in reverse.

"It's never happened before," said one red-faced shipyard official.

The unsolved mysteries of Houdini

Even in death, the master escape artist of all-time preserves his secrets. Houdini still keeps the world baffled. His escapes from 'fool-proof' prisons, buried coffins, and ice-bound lakes defy explanation. Not until the Houdini Papers are opened in 1974 will anyone know his secrets. But there have been lots of theories. The author of Sherlock Holmes claimed Houdini's feats could only have been achieved by supernatural powers. What do you think? ## On the End of the Line

THE Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities won an audience but no particular encouragement at Ottawa yesterday as a two-day conference opened with federal representatives. Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the municipal leaders in essence that cities, towns and villages were the wards of the ten provinces, and that the Dominion had its hands full in connection with its own obligations this year.

While one must concede that there has been gathering pressure on the federal treasury in the last twelve months, there are still many ways in which the Dominion could be helpful to the municipalities without material loss to itself. Excise taxes on imported equipment used in urban bus transit do not form a very significant part of federal income, but they impose a severe drain on the municipalities and transit users who have to make good the difference in the end. Federal sales taxes on a wide range of materials and services essential to the municipalities—including telephones, power and light—are also "passed on" as direct costs to users and no less directly to municipal administrations. Library books, self-fabricated street signs and a host of other items are subject to a federal toll in one form or another. It all adds to the cost of civic operations, on the borderline of taxes that fall somewhere on other taxes.

It is true that municipalities in Canada are under the guidance of their respective provinces. Every administration at Ottawa has said so for decades back. But the provinces almost invariably give them the "busy signal" when they apply for help there. The senior governments do not even pay for municipal services to themselves. Meanwhile the pressure of larger populations, outmoded civic plants, urgent calls for more services, ballooning school costs and higher tabs for everything that has to be attended to within municipal limits bears ever more heavily on relatively the same sources of revenue which the municipalities had fifty years ago in much different times. Population brings costs before it swells revenues, as many a Canadian city has found.

As the most neglected of the three wings of civil administration in Canada, municipalities everywhere are growing very tired of being on the end of the line when it comes to tax receipts. The calls for a perpetual expanding degree of public service falls on them first. The thin dribble of revenue collections which they may gather after the Dominion and ten provinces have made their levies today isn't even holding the line for the municipalities. Everyone acquainted with civic administration knows that.

If senior governments are not in a position immediately to help, they could at least consider the removal of some of the anomalous disabilities on the municipalities arising out of their own laws.

Ever-Present Peril of Fire

FIRE Prevention Week, inaugurated with extensive publicity on Sunday, is a national institution established by royal proclamation. Its purpose is to inform the people of the constant dangers surrounding them in the home, at work or wherever they may come into contact with combustible material; and the need for that education is amply borne out by the grim statistics of lives lost and property destroyed in this country every year.

Canada for all its fine record of progress and its high standards of construction and service has one of the poorest records in the world in the matter of fire loss, and with the passage of the years it is becoming worse instead of better. Surveys conducted by the United Nations show that not even in European countries where people are huddled together under conditions vastly inferior to those of Canadian cities is the record as black as it is in this land.

In terms of dollars the destruction wrought by fire in the Dominion last year ran to more than $130,000,000, which was $25,000,000 higher than the year before. While this loss of property is something which a prosperous nation may be able to survive, it represents wastage that is a disgrace to the country because most of it is attributable to human carelessness. It is moreover only the material and least important side of a horrible story, since it covers losses which are replaceable in time. Human lives are not; and last year 640 were lost in the 84,307 fires reported throughout the Dominion. The massive proportions of the agonizing toll of fires are set out in the statistics for the past decade: 5,337 men, women and children dead and an estimated 16,000 others maimed and disfigured for life.

The tragedy of it all is that this destruction of lives and property could for the most part have been prevented by knowledge and application of the simple rules of fire safety. The message from Canada's fire services for this week—though it holds good for every day of the year—is twofold: "Don't give fire a place to start"; and, on behalf of those who may otherwise fall victims, especially helpless children and elderly folk, "Don't leave us alone with the hazards of fire."

An Authentic VIP

THE RCN is used to visits from very important people but no VIP with a more knowledgeable eye can have been its guest than Admiral of the Fleet Earl Mountbatten, who will arrive here tomorrow morning. There is added attraction in his visit also because of the unusual and spectacular nature of his career, which certainly has been very far from run of the mill, and the personality which has made his name almost a household one.

Undoubtedly the navy will be agog to see the celebrated Lord Louis at close hand. It is not every day that an inspecting officer has been in turn destroyer captain, Commando leader, high-ranking land commander, Viceroy of India, and now First Sea Lord of the Admiralty. His connection with the Royal Family too—he is the uncle of Prince Philip and a great-grandson of Queen Victoria—underscores the interest in his visit.

It is in his role of professional sailor that Earl Mountbatten will review the activities of the Pacific Command, however. In the course of a two-day visit he will be able to see most of the naval phases of this area, including anti-submarine exercises and a trip to the Comox air base. It is not mere local pride which suggests that the First Sea Lord will find much to commend, but well-placed confidence in the quality of the officers and men of the RCN's west coast division. Canada's own top-ranking professional naval head, Vice-Admiral H. G. deWolf, will accompany Earl Mountbatten here, and also have the opportunity of noting the efficient state of the Esquimalt command.

It is a pity that naval affairs will occupy all of the First Sea Lord's time while in Victoria, and that no public opportunity will be given to citizens at large to view so noted a figure. In naval circles of course his presence will be most welcome, and no doubt it will have a stimulating effect as well. It is pleasing on all counts to have him briefly in our midst as one VIP of authentic warrant.

Interpreting the News

U.S. Ponders Two-China Policy

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

THE United States may gradually be edging around toward acceptance of a "two-China" policy.

This would mean tacit, if not outright, recognition by the U.S. that there is room in the international sphere for two Chinas—one a Communist-dominated mainland and the other a free Nationalist government-in-exile 100 miles out to sea on the island of Formosa.

More important, acceptance of such a policy would carry with it the implied recognition by the Eisenhower administration that Red China, with its 600,000,000 inhabitants, does exist—and that its Communist masters form what is known diplomatically as the "de facto" government of mainland China. This would go far toward reducing frictions between the U.S. and the Chinese Communists.

Eventually, it could mean a UN seat for Red China with the Nationalist delegate there remaining as the representative only of Chiang Kai-shek's regime and not, as the United States and Nationalists now pretend, as spokesman for China as a whole.

This new field of speculation was opened up last week by State Secretary Dulles when, in a couple of press conference statements, he appeared almost casually to brush aside Chiang's cherished hope of fighting his way back to the mainland he lost a decade ago in the closing days of the China civil war.

Up to now, Dulles and Eisenhower have left the strong impression, without precisely saying so, that they were prepared to give at least moral support to Chiang's repeated boast that he would some day, by force of arms, topple the Communist regime.

Both the president and his secretary of state have tended to shut their eyes to the fact of Red China's existence and say, in effect, that it isn't here. Dulles, more than once, has said he does not regard the Communist regime as a permanent political institution.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

FOR a month now I have been stuck in the middle of a book. Not that this is unusual when one has a bent for reading four or five books at once.

The procedure is not quite the same as multiple adding of four or five columns of figures, of course, a feat that would stump me even more than "Goebbels' Diaries."

Poor Herr Doktor. How his vanity would shrivel if he knew he had become boring, and for the second time. Once before I essayed to plough through his secret doings but failed then as I fail now.

Truth to tell the inside adventures of Hitler and company have lost their edge. They might still be sharp if another and bigger dictatorship had not arisen to disturb the world.

Different people have different reading habits. I suppose, and possibly I am slowing up. Time was when even a tome like the Nazi Doktor's diaries would have been easy to absorb. Now I find myself savoring books more slowly, going back over the good parts and reading them again.

Some people go through books at an astonishing rate. You marvel at their capacity and wonder if perhaps they really read them or just squeeze the juice out of them.

Often I think re-reading is the most enjoyable part of reading. As with seeing a movie for the second time there is frequent surprise and delight on noting things that escaped you on first reading. The little character touches, for instance, an unusual phrase or incident, passed over in a hurry to get on with the story.

The drawback about a book, you see, is that one always works towards the end. Occasionally one may pull oneself up and wonder at the haste to get a good book finished, which only means saying goodbye—if it is a good book—either to the author or to an interesting group of literary acquaintances.

As for the feat of juggling mentally with several books at once; well, that is relaxation. Like going the rounds on New Year's Day. One can jump from one place to another without giving offence and thus keep oneself interested.

Dr. Goebbels would not have appreciated this, even though he could keep a dozen intrigues on one string with no little ease.

This is not quite the season for reading, allowing that nowadays there is a season. Summer is about over but there is tidying up to do and for many people the temptation thereafter is to sit back and watch television.

If one is a reading addict, naturally, nothing stops him. I am inclined to be that way myself. Ever since I crossed busy intersections at the risk of my life, a penny dreadful glued to my eyes, I have found books too fascinating to be ignored. I cannot imagine going through life without them, although lots of people do. But there is something barren about a home without books.

The shelves themselves mean nothing if the books never move from them. You can always tell when a fine array of volumes are for show or for reading. A true book lover likes to fondle the outside of a volume as well as steep himself in its contents, but it is what lies between the covers that really counts.

Except when one gets stuck in the middle with boredom. How formidable a lot of pages can then appear.

Reports from Ottawa

WHEN Prime Minister Diefenbaker had Parliament vote $40,000,000 special aid for western grain growers just over a month ago, rumblings of dissatisfaction were reported among eastern farmers.

Liberal political strategists attuned their ears to the eastern farm wailing and enjoyed what they heard.

To eastern farmers the $40,000,000 looked like another handout to the favored western farmers. The men who milk the cows, pick the apples and hoe the turnips on eastern acres recalled their resentment over the Liberal government's action in giving these same western farmers $65,000,000 out of the national till a few years ago.

That payment had been explained as compensating for the low prices at which the government sold wheat to Britain after the Second World War. Diefenbaker explained the new $40,000,000 as compensating for the low financial returns to western farmers who grow grain on small, family-size farms. But to eastern specialists it seemed the old story of preferential treatment for the west.

Last week an opportunity arrived for eastern farmers to express their feelings about this "sop to the west." There were by-elections in two representative eastern rural ridings: Grenville-Dundas in Ontario and Montmagny-L'Islet in Quebec.

In Grenville-Dundas the farmers elected a political tyro, the young and attractive widow of the former Tory MP, by a two-to-one majority over the Liberal candidate and popular mayor of Prescott, Mark Salmon. And in Montmagny-L'Islet, a seat made vacant by the resignation of the former Liberal minister of northern affairs, Jean Lesage, they gave Tory candidate Louis Fortin a majority of nearly 1,000.

It would appear from these results that eastern farmers are not seriously aggrieved with the Diefenbaker government.

It would also appear that the Diefenbaker bandwagon has lost none of its appeal in Quebec. Those close to Diefenbaker say that 51 Quebec Tory MPs out of 75 are an embarrassment to the administration. If so, it cannot be a very painful kind of embarrassment.

Lesage, now leader of the provincial Liberals in Quebec, stayed out of the by-election fight in his old riding. Seemingly he didn't want to give Premier Duplessis opportunity to label him as a choreographer of the federal Liberals. Such identification wouldn't help Lesage in the next provincial election—but at the same time he cannot be encouraged by his party's loss in Montmagny-L'Islet.

The farmers' failure to vote Liberal over the $40,000,000 for the west left the Grits without a chance in traditionally Tory Grenville-Dundas. Pretty Mrs. Jean Casselman, 38, was as good as in when she won the Conservative nomination.

Mrs. Casselman has background, intelligence, youth, good looks and money. Although her husband and father never became reconciled to Diefenbaker's leadership, she's a Diefenbaker girl. She should do well in Ottawa.

The Packback

They Keep Growing

By GREGORY CLARK

THE inexhaustible energy of children is a matter of inexhaustible wonder to adults. For the first few months, an infant is content to be held like an adult; that is, to take it easy. But no sooner does it make the exciting discovery of movement, of action, than the fun begins.

And it lasts more than 20 years. Doctors tell me that this activity is a compulsive thing, originating in the very tissues of the child's nervous system. Children are compelled to action in order that they may grow. When you watch the fantastic gyrations of children at play, the positions they get into, the running, jumping, climbing, twisting, crawling, bending, cramping, so that every muscle in their bodies is being gratified with action that encourages it to develop, you can perceive the truth of what the doctors say.

But the doctors tell me something else. There is a type of adult, both man and woman, who is also gifted with inexhaustible energy. It is not so much physical as intellectual and mental. All through their lives they are not only capable of tireless activity; they appear to be driven by some inner compulsion, intellectually, as children are, physically.

"The fact is," say the doctors, "these people are still growing. Intellectually and mentally. Most of the rest of us have ceased growing. Our intellects have set, like plaster."

Fun, Fact and Fiction

In Cleveland a guest conductor was driven crazy at rehearsals because at least one member of the orchestra was always missing. After the last rehearsal he tapped for attention and said, "I want to thank the first violinist publicly for being the only man in the entire orchestra who had the decency to attend every rehearsal."

The first violinist hung his head. "It seemed the least I could do," he said deprecatingly. "You see, I don't expect to show up for the concert tonight."

Toys are said to be getting too elaborate and expensive for children, but they still seem to have a lot of fun playing with the box and wrapping paper.

Adlai Stevenson says his new slogan is "Intellectuals of the world, unite!" But wouldn't it be dangerous, putting all the eggheads into one basket?

London Letter

Anomaly of TV Success

By RICHARD L. THOMAS

IT has been estimated, by those wizards of the alchemy of divining public opinion and actions that approximately 15,000,000 in the United Kingdom watch an outstandingly popular television program, that an audience of 10,000,000 is quite an encouraging token of popularity, but that once you get down to the two and three million class you are in the television doghouse.

The significance is gradually beginning to dawn on entertainers. It is a trifle humiliating to realize that if you only attract a couple of million listeners you are likely to be branded as lousy, whereas people like Mr. Rex Harrison, Miss Julie Andrews and Mr. Stanley Holloway, who manage between them to draw a couple of thousand people a night into "My Fair Lady," are regarded as fabulous successes. A London show which attracts a million customers in the course of a long run is regarded as something in the fabulous class.

The trouble it seems is that we cannot think big enough. Not long ago a weekly pictorial closed down because a million readers were not enough to support it in this modern age. We have some small repertory theatres with audiences of 200 and 300 a night which are regarded as successful—but television is altering our sense of values.

At the moment television is still the mecca of performers of every sort, political and professional; but they are beginning to think. An actor who is mis-cast or flops in a television play may well be damned by ten million people. Probably ten thousand would not see the equivalent flop in a theatre. Granted that he may make ten times his weekly salary in one television appearance, what is the ultimate gain if he damns his career? Everyone talks about the "stars" television has created but no one talks about the people it has damned.

And the same line of thought is becoming manifest amongst the suppliers of television raw material. The playwright may land the equivalent of $1,500 for one performance of a new play. If it flops he has had it; if it succeeds he may be lucky enough to land a repeat performance at half fee. The author who once rejoiced at the windfall and staked everything on having a television play accepted is also beginning to wonder. The same play in a theatre could earn more in royalties. True, it would not come in a lump—but even that has advantages. Not all the tax is payable in one tax year. As a matter of simple accountancy he may well earn $100 in a week from a repertory company which has little interest in producing a play which ten million people have seen on the telly.

Raw material is beginning to dry up. Playwrights are now being offered $5,000 to induce them to ignore their bread and butter in the same way that actors are being offered three weeks' normal salary for saying 20 lines on the telly. But the glamor is wearing off and more and more the program planners are turning to stuff which excited our grandparents, provide a vehicle from some star actor and have no royalties to meet. It is surprising how often a great play which moved us to tears in our youth is completely devoid of point against the changed sociological background of our age. A Little Willie dying of consumption because his parents cannot buy the drugs merely inspires a sense of unreality. Little Willie would obviously be treated free in a modern sanatorium under the national health service and mother would be drawing national assistance to augment Little Willie's sick pay.

It is difficult to move an avowed radical these days by a bloated capitalist grinding the faces of the poor. It much more likely to be a union secretary putting the boot in on a well-meaning employer in real life. So it goes on—and even the supply of angry young men seems to be running out. As dramatists they have almost had their day. Audiences get tired of ranting characters exploding about evils which few knew existed without any solution being offered by the explosive dramatist. Television is finding it increasingly hard to keep its audiences—and even the supply of ancient films is drying up.

City's Milch Cows

The news story is audacious this morning (Oct. 3) as suggested by the mayor with costs to go on the civic taxpayers all over the four municipalities should be squashed immediately.

Here is another attempt to foist on the three outside municipalities a heavy charge to assist the city of Victoria. Is the mayor quite barren of new ideas? Taxpayers be up and at 'em, or again you will be milked over 20 years.

Careless Smokers

The press is continually reporting fires in homes and caused by cigarette smokers.

Many people are concerned, and rightly so, about the danger of cancer from cigarette smoking. But there is a more serious danger to life, by the carelessness of these chain smoking slaves who are really drug addicts.

It is high time that we had some legal check on this, and the insurance companies might well have a clause in their policies stating that only 50 per cent of the claim would be paid where evidence showed that a cigarette started the fire.

Art Disappoints

We the undersigned feel that the people of Victoria have a right to feel considerably surprised at the character of the paintings by Mr. Andres Salgo, now on show at the Art Gallery.

The paintings are incompetent. His lecture on the evening of Oct. 2 was unintelligible.

To say that the Mexican government was ill-advised in sponsoring him is, we feel, a gross understatement. In view of the fact that Mexico has produced a large number of internationally known artists of considerable stature the official sponsorship of this show causes grievous disappointment.

Remove the Scales

Apparently my letter arrested the attention of a Jerry Hartford, publicity director, Canadian region, U.A.W., Windsor, Ont.

Re the error he points out in my letter, this Mr. Ford's picture, along with Walter Reuther's, occupied front page of my Victoria paper in early June, 1955. If Mr. Ford's name was not "Edsel" it matters little for he was the same "Ford" president who Mr. Hartford mentions was negotiating with Reuther at that time. One point he mentions was that "Ford" stock at that time was worth $64.50 whereas today's market lists it $46.

With strikes and more strikes imperilling values, what better way could Reuther or any other labor leader adopt to hamper production of Canadian or American products and help boost the importation of foreign products?

Writing as a near octogenarian retired farmer, one desire is that I hope the good Lord above us will remove the scales from our eyes before it is too late. All of which is respectfully submitted in an effort to create a better world for posterity.

'Let Forces Protect Civilians'

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian armed forces, other than those expected to be used in an immediate operational role, should be trained to assist the civilian population to survive a nuclear attack, the policy committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce said Monday.

The suggestion—contained in the committee's recommendation on defence—was one of scores of matters considered as the big committee waded through more than 100 pages of policy statements and resolutions.

Ottawa Aid Asked For City Streets

OTTAWA (CP)—New federal aid for city streets, main trunk water and sewer lines, and slum clearance projects was requested by representatives of Canadian municipalities.

These proposals were talked first of a two-day "informal" conference between the federal government and a 25-member delegation from the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

Seven more specific municipal requests are to be presented today.

So far the central government has made no commitments.

At a press conference following Monday's sessions, Justice Minister Fulton, conference chairman, said the government has merely "underlined" to take all these points under consideration.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, in a public statement at the conference opening, indicated that his government doesn't feel able to open its purse too widely.

He emphasized the Ottawa government's own financial problems with two-thirds of federal spending going to defence and social security and with its borrowing needs growing by an average of some $100,000,000 a month.

Mayor William Hawrelak of Edmonton, federation spokesman, outlined to reporters the proposals presented Monday.

1. That arterial streets in municipalities, now carrying steadily increasing traffic loads, be recognized as interprovincial and international routes of commerce and thus a matter of national interest.

2. That main trunk sewer and water lines for new housing developments be included among costs for which the central government makes a 25 per cent contribution in land assembly programs. At present, cost of the smaller distribution mains is included in such programs.

3. That the present 50 per cent federal share of acquiring and clearing slum areas for redevelopment be boosted to 75 per cent.

The bid for federal aid to municipal roads raised squarely the constitutional issue of provincial authority under the constitution.

Mr. Hawrelak said the municipalities do not seek to bypass the constitutional responsibilities of the provinces.

Ottawa Talks May Help

Current federal-municipal talks in Ottawa should serve to draw to public attention "the necessity of a wider taxation base for municipalities," Mayor Percy Scurrab said yesterday.

"I think the prime minister realizes the situation but I have doubts that all the provincial governments recognize it," he said. "Maybe these talks will bring the realization to everyone that the base of municipal taxation must be widened."

The mayor cited Saanich as an example of a municipality in need of revenue sources other than property taxation. Victoria, with its services almost completely installed, was not too badly off, he said, but there were many municipalities like Saanich beset with problems of growth and seriously limited in their financial resources.

Why did you buy a house?

When you decided to buy a house, you were probably thinking primarily of your wife and children.

You wanted to be sure that they would have a nice home to live in—one that suited the family needs. Another concern was for the environment in which your children would grow up. You wanted good schools... plenty of play space... nice neighbours.

These are fine reasons for buying a house, and they're just as good for making sure that your family can keep it if something should happen to you.

Metropolitan offers several ways for you to make sure that your family will be left with a deed instead of a debt.

A Metropolitan Mortgage Term Plan is one way. It is designed to cover the usual type of home mortgage, which decreases each year as payments on the principal are made. The face amount of the insurance also decreases, so that the level premium is relatively inexpensive.

Another way, more satisfactory for most younger men, is a Metropolitan Whole Life policy. This is permanent insurance.

In addition to assuring that funds will be available for payment of the mortgage in the event of death, it also builds cash and loan values, which furnish a nest egg to help take care of payments in case of illness or other emergency.

And because the face value does not decrease, it can be used for continuing protection or be fitted into your retirement plans after the mortgage is paid off.

Your Metropolitan Representative will be pleased to explain these plans to you, and help determine which type is best for you. Call him—let him show you that...

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street... as close as your phone

Ferry Suspension Strongly Protested

Saanich Peninsula has united in opposition to the move by Coast Ferries Ltd., operator of the Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry, to suspend service on Oct. 20. "It would be a great loss to the people of the peninsula if the ferry were taken off," said Central Saanich Reeve H. R. Brown, following a special meeting of the council.

"We will make a strong protest to the government, asking that at least one ferry be kept running during the winter months," the council said.

G. B. Sterne, president of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. C. H. Hemmings, chairman of Sidney village commission, agreed that the service should be kept open as an alternate route between Victoria and up-island points.

"The ferry is part of the civil defence plan for evacuation of Victoria," Dr. Hemmings said, "and should be kept open as an emergency route, even by subsidy, if that is the only possible way."

"Apart from that, I think ferries should be operated by the department of highways, as part of the highway system," he continued. "I can't see any difference between a road that is blasted through rock, and one that floats across water."

Most important project undertaken by Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce is making members better citizens of their communities, president Ray Rawnsley said last night.

He made the statement to mark the start of National Jaycee Week which ends Saturday.

Jaycee projects range from Little League baseball, the annual Jaycee fair, traffic safety program and paint-up, cleanup campaign to the Christmas lighting contest, public speaking courses and clinics in chairmanship and parliamentary procedure, he said.

"The objects of the Junior Chamber are to promote the welfare of the community and its citizens, to provide members with leadership training and civic consciousness and to qualify younger men for active participation in the social, economic and political development of Canada," Mr. Rawnsley continued.

"That we have been achieving our objectives was recognized at the recent national convention held in Victoria when this unit won six awards, including a second prize for the most outstanding unit in Canada."

Mr. Rawnsley invited all men between the ages of 18 and 35 to join the Victoria Junior Chamber and help in its work.

'Change Pat Bay Status'

Victoria Chamber of Commerce has asked the Air Transport Board to consider granting air lines the right to begin or end trans-Canada flights at Patricia Bay airport on a regular basis.

The move was made following unofficial talks between chamber officials and an airline company. The rights requested are subject to the completion of safe and satisfactory runways.

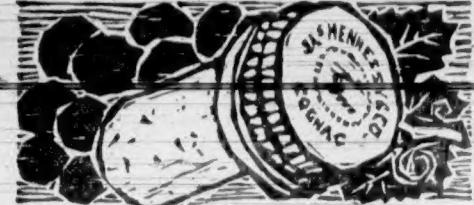

The board is considering applications from Canadian Pacific Airlines Ltd. for rights to operate a domestic trans-continental air service.

"The chamber is determined to see Victoria takes its rightful place on the air map of the world," G. Conway Parrott, president, said last night. "Island residents and those coming to the island should not have to suffer the existing situation any longer than necessary."

Mr. Parrott said the chamber believes there is sufficient traffic in and out of Victoria at present to justify the service once runways have been extended.

A start on the construction of the runways to increase their length by one-half cannot be made until the Patricia Bay Airport is expected done within a few months. Extension highway is moved.

Ottawa, Provinces Meeting To Discuss Prison Reform

By TOM GREEN
Colonist Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton and Solicitor General Leon Bales will meet with cabinet ministers of all 10 provinces here in mid-October to discuss prison reform.

Mr. Fulton has called the meeting to consider the recommendations concerning penal reform and other related subjects made in 1956 by a special committee headed by Mr. Justice Gerald Fauteux of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Some of the Fauteux Committee recommendations were solely in the federal field, some were of provincial concern and others of overlapping interest.

One of the most far-reaching recommendations was that the federal authority should assume responsibility for the custody of offenders sentenced to terms longer than six months, rather than for two years or more as the law now provides.

It is understood here that the federal government is prepared to accept the responsibility for offenders jailed for longer than six months. Since it involves federal assumption of a considerable item of expense by provincial governments, it is doubtful any of the provinces will stand in the way of the change.

This would permit establishment of a country-wide uniform system of parole with follow-up services.

An Inquiring Mind Only Qualification

A 16-meeting course with no prerequisite level of education, no lectures and no fees is being organized at Victoria College for the sixth successive year.

All that is needed is an inquiring mind and an interest in the world of ideas.

The course, a Great Books Discussion group, is one of thousands being organized throughout North America.

Theme for the first year will be "Man's Relation to the State" and readings will include the writings of great figures of history on the subject.

Victoria College donates the use of a room to the group and two discussion leaders, who guide conversations and arguments, donate their time. Meetings are held every second week.

The Great Books Foundation which sponsors the group is a non-profit organization. Only cost to members of the group is the cost of the reading material—$10 a set. One set can be used by a husband and wife.

First meeting of the group will be held tomorrow at 7.30 p.m. in Victoria College. Further information can be obtained by telephoning Ernest Lithgow, GR 9-4458, or Mrs. Errol Skinner, GR 7-3094.

Base Metals

Act Strongly At Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Industrial and base metals closed at 1958 highs.

Base metals and paper were strong groups in industrial.

Royal Bank added 1% at 72 and Commerce was ahead 1%.

Among other industrial stocks Company of Canada added 1% at 68 1/2 and General Motors 1% at 48.

BA Oil was down 2 1/2 points at 41 1/2.

Senior mines were strong. Hudson Bay Mining was the leader, ahead 2 at 56 1/2 and International Nickel added 1% at 86 1/2.

In western oils Pacific Petroleum, ahead 1 1/2 at 20 1/2, Home Oil B closed ahead 1/2 at 20 1/2, down 1/2 from its high.

New Highs Reached

MONTREAL (CP)—Prices were generally higher in active trading.

The utilities were mixed. International was up 1/2 at 32, and Shawinigan, up 1/2 at 32, down 1/2 was B.G. Power at 4 1/2.

Up 1 1/2 in the base metals was International Nickel at 86 and Noranda at 50 1/2. Hudson Bay gained 2 1/2 at 56 1/2, a new high.

The steels were generally higher. Algoma lost 1/2 at 34 1/2, while United Steel advanced 1/2 at 35 1/2. Stelco was up 3/4 at 58 1/2, a new high.

Other new highs included Howard-Smith Paper, up 1/2 at 37 1/2, Simpsons, up 1/2 at 28 1/2, Canadian Breweries, up 1/2 at 35 and Mitchell Robert A., up 1/2 at 7 1/2.

Profits Chopped

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished higher but late profit-taking chopped down the early gains all along the line.

The advance carried industrial stocks to a new all-time high and rails to a new top in more than a year.

Economic news helped to fashion the advance, the eighth in the past 10 sessions and sixth in the past seven sessions. The easing of the Far Eastern tensions also contributed to the rise.

Reports that new orders for industrial products are coming in at a faster pace helped all sections of the market.

Railroad stocks met support on the better economic outlook.

Losses Outnumbered

VANCOUVER—The stock market continued its upward progress with gains outnumbering losses in all sections.

Strong spots among industrials were Western Plywood at a new high of $17 1/2 and Woodward Stores at $17 1/2. B.C. Forest Products at $12 1/2 and MacMillan B. at $34 1/2 both gained fractions.

Cowichan Copper was the leading trader among mines, rising 18 cents to $10.9. Sheep Creek rose to 63 cents.

2,000,000 Shares for Expansion

B-A Markets New Issue

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

B-A Oil Company is to sell 2,000,000 additional common shares to finance the company's expansion program. A price for the new shares is to be announced shortly, but at current market valuation the amount should be about $80,000,000.

Gulf Oil has undertaken to purchase 1,500,000 shares, which will enable it to maintain its controlling interest at about 57 per cent of the total equity capital.

Other shareholders however will have to take their luck with the remaining 500,000 shares, which are to be offered to the public generally, but not in the United States.

It will be one of the largest equity offerings in Canadian corporation history.

NOT BANKS' METIER

Canadian loan companies do not think the chartered banks are going to do them out of business as a result of the entry of the Bank of Nova Scotia into the consumer-loan business.

F. J. Chalk, president of the Canadian Consumer Loan Association, says:

"It is unlikely the banks will change their highly-selective approach to lending money. This will undoubtedly result in disappointment to the many buyers of used cars whose purchases are unlikely to provide satisfactory security for any bank loan."

He noted the Bank of Nova Scotia expects most of its consumer loans in the $250 to $3,000 bracket.

He added this was not the main business of his members. Over 1,000,000 Canadian families borrowed from loan companies in 1957 and, of these, 611,000 borrowed less than $200.

Money is required for exploration work on the 14-claim gold property adjoining Barnat Mines.

Lions played Green Bay Packers in a 13-13 tie in the National Football League's eastern division.

Cleveland Browns whacked Pittsburgh Steelers 45-12 in an other game. Steelers' second straight loss. Monday Layne was traded to the Steelers for quarterback Earl Morrall and a future draft choice.

In other Sunday action, Philadelphia Eagles defeated favored New York Giants, 27-24, and Los Angeles Rams belted San Francisco, 33-3, with 45ers Joe Perry setting a career rushing record.

Saturday, Chicago Cardinals upset Washington Redskins, 37-10, and Chicago Bears were nipped, 51-38, by Baltimore.

A pair of sophomores, Mill Plum and Jimmy Brown, did most of the work for the powerful Browns. Plum passed for two touchdowns and completed 13 of 14 passes for 197 yards. Brown scored three touchdowns and carried the ball for 129 yards. Perry now has rushed 5,877 yards in a nine-year career.

San Francisco's Perry gained 44 yards, surpassing Steve Van Buren's lifetime mark by 12 yards. Perry now has rushed 5,877 yards in a nine-year career.

Elliott Turns Down Professional Offer

PERTH, Australia—World record mile holder Herb Elliott has turned down a $238,000 contract to turn professional. Elliott's announcement to that effect Monday came as a blow to U.S. promoter Leo Leavitt, who had hoped to match Elliott with Dr. Roger Bannister and Wes Santee in a "mile of the century."

Hot Shower in Immediate Future

Perhaps he can foretell future this way, but Milwaukee pitcher Lew Burdette seems to be reading his palm as he leaves mound for showers in sixth inning of yesterday's world series game at Yankee Stadium. In background Braves' manager Fred Haney talks over situation with catcher Del Crandall. It was first time in five series starts that Burdette had failed to finish against Yanks. New Yorkers went on to win contest, 7-0, but trail series, 3-2. (AP Photofax.)

Turley Halts Braves With Sharp Control

NEW YORK — Looking like the champions they might yet be, New York Yankees yesterday snapped out of a batting slump to back up Bob Turley's tremendous pitching and moved the world series back to Milwaukee for a sixth game tomorrow.

Beaten four straight times by ex-Yankee Lew Burdette, the American League champions routed their nemesis with a six-run sixth inning and went on to a 7-0 victory as Turley stayed in control until the finish.

It was a great comeback for Turley, who had faced only five men in the second game, in which the Braves opened with a seven-run inning and won, 13-5.

A 21-game winner this season and almost unbeatable in early-season play, Turley was at his best. The big righthander, who has one of baseball's best fast balls, had what he lacked in the first game—control.

Yesterday, he was getting his curve ball over, and it was a dandy. Time and again, the Braves took called strikes as Turley came in with a sharp breaking pitch. He struck out 10 of the Braves, gave up but five hits and walked only three.

The Braves got men on the bases in each of the last three innings but Turley dug down to come up with the pitches which gave him his shutout, the third in a row in this series. Don Larsen and Ryne Duren combined to blank the Braves Saturday while Warren Spahn kept the Yanks away from home plate on Sunday.

Along with pitching, the Yankees had punch and defence yesterday. They started the game with a team batting average of .168 and they had flied atrociously in the first four games.

Defence may have saved the game in the top half of the sixth. After five innings, the Yanks led by a shaky 1-0, Gil McDougald having slammed a high fast ball out of the park, and it seemed that Burdette was to continue his mastery over his former club.

But the Braves made a bid in the sixth, Bill Bruton leading off with a single which took a bad bounce over shortstop Tony Kubek's head. Then, on a run-and-hit play, Red Schoendienst looped what appeared to be a certain hit into left-center.

But Elston Howard, normally a catcher but in left-field yesterday after rookie Norm Siebern's sad defensive play Sunday, made a diving catch. He scrambled to his feet and whipped the ball to McDougald. It glanced off McDougald's glove but first-baseman Bill Skowron got it in time to tag Bruton for the double play.

That turned the tide. Hank Bauer opened the Yankee sixth with a single. Jerry Lumpe went on bunting foul on a third strike but Mickey Mantle kept things going with another single.

Up stepped Yogi Berra, hitting .117 for the series. The squat catcher immediately set a new series record (98) for total bases and tied the record (58) for series hits by lining a double to right field.

Howard was given a base on balls to load the bases but Skowron singled in the second run of the inning and the Yanks had at last caught up with Burdette.

LOST IN SUN

Juan Pizarro, a southpaw, took over and McDougald kept things going with a two-run double, lost in the sun by Wes Covington. Kubek struck out but Turley wanted to make sure and singled for two more runs.

Neither club would announce a starting pitcher for Wednesday's game, for which the Yankees have been established 65 favorites.

New York Errors Hurt Whitey Ford

NEW YORK—Knowing baseball men maintain that it has been defence above anything else which has kept the Yankees on top of the baseball world for so long. But it hasn't been evident in the world series and on Sunday the lack of it almost knocked the New York club out of the series.

The Yankees could only manage two hits off a magnificent Warren Spahn, who pitched one of the best games of a brilliant career, but the fact remains Whitey Ford might well have matched the Milwaukee veteran had he been accorded the same support. Instead, Ford had to accept the 3-0 defeat which put the Braves ahead in games, 3-1.

Two prize rookies were the culprits. Left-fielder Norm Siebern failed to come up with four catchable balls while shortstop Tony Kubek let a ground ball through after Siebern's first miscue as the pair teamed up to give the Braves a 1-0 lead in the sixth.

The second and third Milwaukee runs—one each in the seventh and eighth innings—also came after balls hit into Siebern's territory had dropped for hits.

FINE SUPPORT

Meanwhile, Spahn was getting excellent support. Red Schoendienst made a tremendous play on a ball hit by Yogi Berra to retire the side in the fourth with Mickey Mantle, who had tripled, crossing the plate.

After that, Spahn was in complete control. He retired 17 of the last 18 batters to face him, only Bill Skowron's seventh inning single marring the streak. The canny southpaw had better perfect control and used a sizzling fast ball in the late innings to mow the Yankees down as fast as they stepped to the plate.

It was Spahn's third successive win over the Yanks in series play and the first time Ford had ever lost a series game in Yankee Stadium.

Cougar Roster Swells

Three More Defencemen

NELSON (Special)—Fortunes of the Victoria Cougars took a turn for the better over the weekend with the acquisition of three defencemen.

Their forward line combinations looking good in workouts, the Cougars have been hampered by the lack of defencemen. Until Sunday the only blocker in camp that the club was counting on to play regularly was Jean Marc Picard. There were two in camp by Sunday and two more will be with the club either today or tomorrow.

Joining the club Sunday was hold-over veteran Carl Kaiser, whose failure to report earlier had been a mystery. Kaiser drove his family to Victoria and house-hunting kept him from reporting as expected.

Expected to join the club today is Don McLeod, a hard-hitting defenceman who played for Vernon Canadians last season. McLeod has been training with the Calgary Stampede, who sent him to the Cougars for the season.

Rounding out the Victoria blue-line brigade will be Dave Rimstad, star of the Junior Edmonton Oil Kings last season. Rimstad will be on loan to Victoria for the season and will join the club before it leaves for its opening game in Vancouver Friday.

Manager-coach Pat Egan said last night that he expects Picard, McLeod, Kaiser and Rimstad will do defensive chores for the Cougars this season unless a player or two can be obtained from Boston. Egan has been unable to get in touch with Lynn Patrick, general manager of the Bruins, but still has hope that he will get additional help as soon as Providence, Boston's No. 1 farm club, makes a decision on what players to keep.

The Cougars have decided against taking Lionel Repka, who played for Seattle last season. Egan reported that the Totems wanted to sell Repka, who will probably wind up with Spokane.

Meanwhile, the Victoria coach said he was "satisfied" with the way his forwards have been performing.

"We may have a few surprises among them," he said. "We've got a couple of boys who can shoot that puck."

He intends to retain Frank Milne, who can fill in on defence, as utility player and the Cougars will likely start the season with 15 players, including goalie Marcel Pelletier.

Cougars open their season Monday afternoon at 2 against Calgary Stampede, who will be, of course, featuring ex-Cougar Ed Dorow.

B.C. Lions Finally Roar Behind New QB Dorow

VANCOUVER—B.C. Lions, with quarterback Al Dorow stepping in to supply the roar that has been missing all season, won their first game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union schedule here last night with a thrilling 15-14 decision over Calgary Stampede.

Dorow, playing his first game with the Lions in place of less than four minutes remaining. Coach Dan Edwards decided

George Herring, finally gave a crowd of 18,574 Lions fans something to cheer about. He scored both touchdowns and gave the Lions a better passing and running attack than they have had all season.

The win was the first for the Lions since Oct. 14, 1957, when they beat Saskatchewan Roughriders, 30-10, here and came after they had been beaten 10 straight times in the 1958 campaign.

Already out of the running for the WIFU playoffs, the Lions played the role of spoilers and hurt the Stampede.

Last night's scores: B.C. Lions 15, Calgary 14. Vancouver's Winnipeg 14, Saskatchewan 13. (AP Wirephoto.)

Real game Saturday, B.C. at Winnipeg, Calgary at Edmonton.

Veryl Switzer and Gene Filipowski scored Calgary's touchdowns. Doug Brown converted one and scored a single when Mel Gillett was fouled on an attempted first-quarter field goal.

After Switzer scored early in the second quarter, Fieldgate intercepted a pass by Knobby Winkowski in the third quarter. Dorow passed to Jerry James at the Calgary 25-yard line and four plays later ran over untouched from seven yards out. Ted Hunt converted, making it 8-7.

Near the end of the quarter Filipowski scored on a pass from Winkowski, but Brown missed the convert.

LIONS MOVED

Lions moved from their own 33-yard line midway in the fourth quarter, the key play being a 27 yard pass from Dorow to Ed Vereb. But the attack petered out at the one-yard line.

Stampede failed to make any yards, their punt was blocked, and Fieldgate tackled Duncan to make it 14-7. Then Fieldgate recovered a fumble at the Calgary 47-yard line and the Lions were off again.

Eight plays later Dorow plunged over for the touchdown that sent the Lions ahead for keeps although the convert attempt was blocked.

Dorow, 27, a former All-American at Southern Methodist and an ex-member of Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, joined the Lions Tuesday. He had seen limited service with Saskatchewan Roughriders this season.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Success of the fourth thoroughbred meeting at Sandown Park, which saw the mutual handle show a good increase for the second year in a row, should mean better facilities and, perhaps, better racing for next year.

Jack Randall, who operates the track along with brothers Bill and Bob, said that he was "well satisfied" with the interest shown by South Island racing fans this year.

"We'll make some improvements before the next meeting," he said.

Definitely in plans for next year is improvement of the racing strip, which will have the turns banked. More mutual windows will also be installed. Erection of a clubhouse and installation of ticket issuers, which will permit wagering right up until off time, are probable. But there won't be a totalizer as wagering of an average of $35,900 each day hardly warrants the expense.

Looking back, it was an interesting meeting and the handicapping was good. The percentage of favorites winning was a bit below normal but Victorians have always created a lot of false favorites and they still showed an aversion to betting on a horse which had won previously, something which caused better payoffs than should have been the case in many instances.

On the critical side, the biggest weakness was probably the lack of enough good riders, an item which also helped contribute to a few surprises. Bad judgment on the part of the rider was often a factor in deciding races.

Jack Arterburn and Charlie Ulrich shared honors as the leading jockeys, each with 15 winners, but to this observer the outstanding rider at the meet was Bobby Cormack, who wound up in the winners' circle 12 times.

Cormack almost always got the most out of his mount. He didn't get as many "good" horses as many of the other riders but he usually came close when he got a horse with any run at all. He did particularly well with Indian Springs, New Feature, Corn Stalk and Prince Denis and twice was involved in record straight payoffs. His victory on Prince Denis set a new high of $51.90 for a $2 straight ticket, then he broke that with a $52.20 ride the first time New Feature won. Cormack was also in the irons when Foxy's Legacy won his first race to pay $23.30.

Best horse at the meet, as expected, had to be Desert Fire, which won two of the three handicaps it ran although packing top weight. And despite the four straight wins by Silent Dawn, outstanding among the claimers was Indian Springs, winner of its last three and never beaten by more than two lengths and never out of the money in six starts.

Razor-sharp Mount Baker was another who stood out with three wins and a place finish in four starts. Equine surprises at the meet were New Feature, winner of only one race before being shipped to Sandown, and Sir Basher, who started the meet looking for his first win. Both won three times in increasingly impressive fashion.

There were, of course, many disappointing horses—such as Davenport, Queensboro Lad, Doree Dee, Chick's Last, Furious Profit, Early Rambler, Our Hour and Somworth. To name a few, who just couldn't find a field they could beat.

Two more claims were made yesterday. Mrs. Pearl Hoen of Great Falls, Montana, picked up Glen Nihou for $1,000 while G. R. Vandervort grabbed Text for the same amount. Glen Nihou will probably do a lot of racing in the northwest United States and the speedy chestnut gelding ought to do well in the five and a half furlong sprints. It's about his right distance. . . four horses won three races—New Feature, Mount Baker, Indian Springs and Sir Basher—while Silent Dawn took four purses. At least 19 other horses were two-time winners. . . the mee might well have been the last for such veterans as Broad Bend, Ability, Australian Ace, Bart's Rock, Miss Humbug and Royal Glory. Such as Wheatlander, Steven C. Mybestoyou, Beline and Eastern Epic are also nearing the time when purses are too far apart. . . an unofficial tabulation shows trainer Don Carley with nine victories from five horses while Ken Darbyshire, who many felt should have wound up as leading trainer, had eight victories from seven horses. . . there were many consistent horses at the track but two who seemed to stick out were Speedy Gal and Jessie Mae, who never failed to give their backs—a real run for their money. . . horses who seemed to have the worst kind of racing luck included Justice Flash, Our Hour, Sleepy Star and Somworth. . . there was an unusually large number of track scratches this year and while it was irritating to many bettors, they should remember that they gained by it.

Bombers Win, 14-13

Near Miss For Riders

REGINA—Winnipeg Blue Bombers ran up an early 14-0 lead, and held on grimly before a determined second-half drive here last night to defeat Saskatchewan Roughriders, 14-13, and consolidate their grip on first place in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

It was the seventh straight victory and the 10th in 12 games for the Bombers, who now lead the second-place Riders by seven points. Bombers have four games remaining, the Riders five.

The Bomber defensive unit, which has allowed fewer points than any in the league, had to rise to the heights to stop the Riders, who outgained the Winnipeg club, 384 yards to 286 on total offense.

Led by veteran tackle Buddy Tinsley, Bombers stopped full-back Cookie Gilchrist on three straight tries from the two-yard line late in the fourth quarter. Riders came back on the next series but, trailing by eight points, couldn't get their touchdown until the final play of the game.

Once again it was Jim Van Pelt, rookie quarterback from University of Michigan, who sparked the Bombers on offense. Van Pelt scored eight points on two field goals, a single on a wide field goal attempt, and a convert. He kicked 13 placements from 36 and 40 yards out, Leo Lewis got the touchdown late in the first quarter.

HILL MISSED

Bombers got their margin of victory when Jack Hill, WIFU scoring leader, missed a convert attempt after scoring on a pass from Frank Tripucka at 14:17 of the second quarter.

Bobby Mulgudo made a sensational catch on a pass from Tripucka for Riders' final touchdown.

Riders were outtrashed, 220 yards to 138, but the peerless Tripucka completed 17 of 35 passes to gain 236 yards through the air. Van Pelt made good on six of 18 passes for 66 yards.

THREE INTERCEPTED

Three of Tripucka's passes were intercepted, one on a fine play by Norm Rauhaus in the Bomber end zone to stop a Saskatchewan attack that had reached the Bomber 13-yard line.

Gilchrist, who rushed for 110 yards, set up the Winnipeg touchdown when he fumbled at the Rider 48. Van Pelt passed to Ron Latourelle for 22 yards and hit Lewis for 16 yards before the Lincoln Locomotive scored on a 10-yard end sweep.

Charlie Shepard averaged 45.6 yards on 15 punts for the Bombers in a duel with Larry Isbell, who averaged 40.7 on 11 tries.

FIRST QUARTER

Labor May Set Up Political Blacklist

VANCOUVER, B.C. — A proposal for a blacklist of political enemies bound on to labor was before British Columbia union leaders yesterday.

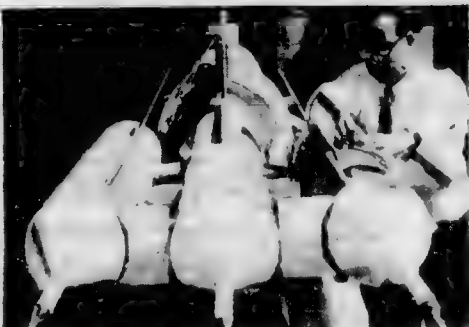

It was made in a 12-page document which "labor's press" presented at a special forum.

When the union of America and Canada meet at the Canadian Labor Congress in Vancouver, B.C., the document will be presented to the delegates. It is a proposal to set up a blacklist of political enemies bound on to labor.

Boy Runs Into Car

A young boy, 10 years old, was run over by a car in the city of Vancouver yesterday.

The boy was taken to the hospital after the accident. He is now in a critical condition.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome those false teeth. PASTETH is a new dental product that makes false teeth more comfortable. No gum, no pain, no taste. It's alkaline, non-toxic, and it's the only dental product that's been tested by the Canadian Dental Association.

'Prank' Costly

A "prank" last month cost Alex M. Stenger, R.C.N., a $25 fine in city police court yesterday.

He had earlier been found guilty of possession of a large quantity of garden hose in his car Aug. 11. He had said he didn't know how they got there, after a party.

Magistrate Henry Hall said, "I do think it was a prank," but he believed Sten-

Segregationists Blamed

FBI Takes Over Bombed School

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI) — The 500 semi-converted students in the FBI-run, bombed-out Clinton High School today were ordered to leave the school in a hurry, with state and local authorities sifting the wreckage for clues to the bombing.

Most of the blame for the triple explosion Sunday, Sept. 28, was placed on segregationists. The school was bombed by a group of white supremacists.

New Colors Hope Strong

It is hoped that the new colors of the 1959 RCA Victor Achievement Series will be a real improvement over the old ones.

'Open Our Schools'

Clark Spence, 17, president of the Young Men's Christian Association, is holding up a petition asking the county board to open the schools to all children.

No School For Year 'Possible'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Little Rock Central High School, the only school in the city, may be closed for a year because of the bombing.

The school was bombed on Sept. 24, and the damage is so severe that it may not be possible to open it next year.

The school is the only one in the city, and the bombing has caused a great deal of trouble for the students.

$2,000,000 Tag On Sewer Plan

The proposed sewer scheme, said, connections made after for the Cadboro Bay and Shelburne-Cedar Hill areas of Saanich will cost about $2,000,000, municipal engineer Neville Life told Saanich public works committee last night.

Using figures based on the

Mr. Life tentatively set at $150,000 annual levy for 10 years at $6.01 for each $100 land assessment.

House connections made at the time the sewer lines are laid will cost about $800 per

Stalin Show, 'Filthy Slander'

TV Play Angers Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The fiasco drama, "The Plot to Kill Stalin," which was aired Sept. 23 on CBS's "Playhouse-90," was denounced as a "filthy slander" by Soviet Union and the Soviet government.

He said the program was a "filthy slander" against the Soviet Union and the Soviet government.

White added that Menshikov's protest "was taken under advisement." Asked what this meant, the spokesman replied that it means the protest "has been noted."

'Give Credit Where It's Due For Area Improvements'

Credit should be given "to those who have done the work" in the area of improvements, said a spokesman for the provincial government.

He was commenting on the progress made in the area of improvements, which he said was "a very good example of what can be done."

Not Geoffrey, however, and the fact that the province is doing so much work in the area of improvements, he said, is a "very good example of what can be done."

Step out of the shadow of nagging nerves

Do you suffer sometimes from tense nerves, irritability, feelings of depression?

Some people experience symptoms like these because their systems are upset by ingredients present in everyday beverages. While some can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without ill-effects, others cannot, particularly those with 'nervous' temperaments.

Postum does not contain tannin which sometimes interferes with digestion; or caffeine, theophylline and theobromine which are stimulants that can cause nerves, depression, distress.

Why take chances? Switch to Instant Postum. Postum is guaranteed to contain no stimulants or drugs. It does not taste or act like ordinary beverages. Postum has a comforting flavor of its own. Make Postum easily, instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water and stir.

Try Postum for 30 days. When nerves are comforted, digestion improves, depressions vanish. You sleep better, feel better, look better. Get Instant Postum. Comfort for less than 1¢ a cup.

Small Land But Corner Unexplored

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (Reuters) — Even after 100 years of European occupation, there are still some areas of this small country that are unexplored.

Most of these are in the Fiordland National Park in the southwest corner of the South Island.

Fiordland is larger than all the other seven New Zealand national parks put together. Forests, mountains, lakes and sounds comprise its 2,650,793 acres and it contains some of the most spectacular scenery in the dominion — as well as some of the wildest.

All Fiordland has been surveyed at some time or other from the air. But there are large areas where no human being has penetrated on foot.

Appearance of a diamond drill searching for gold ore right on their own street didn't surprise residents of Laval Street, Malartic, Que. It's strictly a mining town and residents are used to such activities which would create an uproar in most communities. Not far from Laval Street, Barnat Mines recently discovered the biggest new gold ore body of the past 10 years.

Latins Crowd World Census

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Latin America is an overflowing "fountain of youth."

This is the conclusion of the population reference bureau here which has just come up with statistics that children under 14 constitute more than 40 per cent of the population of South and Central American countries.

"Today," says Dr. Robert Cook, director of the bureau, "Latin America has the most rapid population growth of any major region of the world and this is shifting the population ratio of the Western Hemisphere."

"In 1926 Latin America had 91,000,000 people, five per cent of the world's population. In 1956 it was 187,000,000 or seven per cent. In 1920 the United States and Canada had a combined population of 117,000,000. In 1956 it was 184,000,000.

"If this current growth trend were to continue to the end of the century, Latin America would have almost twice as many people as the United States and Canada—393,000,000 against 312,000,000. Then Latin America would have the second largest population among the regions of the world, outstripping the U.S.S.R., Africa and Europe. Asia, with about 3,900,000,000, would remain in first place.

As in many other undeveloped areas of the world, Cook says, Latin America's explosive growth results mainly from a combination of rapidly falling death rates and high birth rates.

"Continued rapid growth," he says, "seems inevitable. It is unlikely that low birth rates will balance low death rates for a long time to come. The preponderance of youth will continue to breed political instability."

Out of Slavery

Pygmies Helped To Civilization

MOUNT HOYO, Belgian Congo (NANA) — The African pygmies, perhaps the most primitive people of the continent, will soon be taking their first steps toward civilization.

M. W. van Remoortel, member of the Belgian senate and a director of "Bien-Etre Indigene," a heavily endowed foundation dedicated to helping the Congo natives, recently completed an inspection tour of pygmy communities in this region.

"We have neglected the pygmies for much too long," Senator van Remoortel said. "Their plight is pitiable—more so today than ever before."

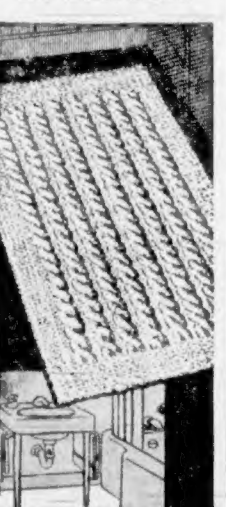

He explained that the "little people" who have lived in the Congo's forest for centuries, have become reduced to a status of near-slavery to the more civilized Bantus.

The pygmies, Senator van Remoortel said, must hunt to live; but they do not know how to work metal. To obtain iron for spear tips and arrowheads they supply meat to the Agrarian Bantus, who are relatively experienced in metal work.

IN BONDAGE

"Somewhat, the pygmies never seem to come out even in this harsh arrangement," the senator said, "and the Bantus force

Forces Crack Down On Car Sale Racket

HEIDELBERG (NANA) — U.S. military forces in Europe are saluting the start of Detroit's new automobile production year with measures to discourage the high-pressure selling of new cars to servicemen.

The army is distributing pamphlets warning troops against unethical dealers. It has issued regulations requiring army clearance for all car salesmen working military installations.

"Don't rush into the purchase of a car," is the gist of the army pamphlet message. The pamphlet advises that today's car business is a buyer's market.

"If a deal looks too good to be true, it probably is," adds the army message.

TIPS TO BUYERS

The military offers these car buying tips:

1—Take your time. Check the dealer's reputation.

2—Don't sign a purchase contract unless you understand it. Don't sign a contract with blank spaces in it.

3—Make sure the price is fair, and that it is noted in the contract.

4—Pay cash if possible. If you must pay on time, get all the details you can on the terms.

U.S. military installations in Europe are overrun with U.S. servicemen. Their main target is the serviceman returning to the U.S., who is offered a car "ready to drive away from the door" as soon as he arrives.

AIRMAN'S COMPLAINT

A typical complaint cited by the air force involves an airman who made a deposit of $100 on a car ordered in Europe for delivery in the U.S.

When the airman reached the U.S., according to the complaint, the car he had ordered "was not in stock," and the airman was pressured into buying a more expensive model. He was not able to keep up his payments, and the car was repossessed.

The famous Kneller Head school of military music in England was established in 1857.

Legal Battle Looms Over Ferry Issue

When it appeared the ferries would be struck last June the government declared an emergency under the Civil Defence Act and took over their operation.

The decision as to when the legal battle will start will probably be made at the B.C. Federation of Labor convention in Vancouver Oct. 21 to 24.

'Bias' Cries Esquimalt

Esquimalt council, charging possible "discrimination" against the municipality, last night strongly supported a new request to the Capital Improvement District Commission for development of roads, lighting and pathways in Gorge Park.

Coun. James Bryant pointed to approval by the commission, or the provincial cabinet, of similar projects in Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay, mentioned rejection of previous requests for Gorge Park work and asked:

"Why don't they give us anything? Is it because we've got a service club (Kinsmen) helping with the park?"

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said cabinet members had declined to give reasons and Coun. G. K. Sammon added: "If we don't get an answer, we have only one conclusion to draw—we're being discriminated against."

Council declined to approve construction of sidewalk and curb and gutter in front of the new liquor store at Esquimalt and Admirals Roads, at a cost of $576.50 to the municipality, until it determines the amount to be paid to Esquimalt in lieu of taxes on the new store.

$9,900 for Chest In Bound Box

Greater Victoria Community Chest was given a treasure chest yesterday—a heavily bound box containing $9,900.

The money was contributed by naval and civilian personnel of the Pacific Command of the Royal Canadian Navy in Esquimalt. And more is yet to come—expected to raise the total to more than $10,000.

Rear-Admiral H. S. Rayner, Flag Officer Pacific Coast, presented the heavy, wooden chest to Bert Walters, chairman of the armed forces campaign committee of the Chest.

Hubert A. Wallace, chairman of the Greater Victoria Community Chest, last night looked forward to a successful appeal with the target of $300,000 being reached.

"Indications are promising," he said. "None of the individual campaigns are complete but from what we can see donations are considerably better than in past years."

A successful campaign will not only assist the 20 charities which belong to the Chest organization but will also show "outside" charities the advantages of joining.

"The Chest way is the best way for charities to gain the money they need to carry out their work," he said. "The more charities which belong to the Chest, the stronger it becomes."

Meanwhile, the Community Chest balloon which has been flying over Victoria for a week, has been grounded.

The inner tube sprang a leak at 11:55 a.m. and came to rest atop the federal building.

The balloon will be stored until the Chest donations approach the target of $300,000 as officials have only a limited supply of bladders and helium gas.

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident As Dentists Suggest

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures, banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules:

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter. D-7

Inventor as Hobo Learns of Wealth

LOS ANGELES—An inventor whose aircraft warning made headlines after he left home broke and despondent last June has been found living the life of a hobo near Reno, Nev.

Elmer C. Meukel, saying his faith is restored, is en route here to look into a manufacturing company's statements that his device is worth a fortune.

"I always intended to go back," he said. "I have faith in my invention. And I know my wife has never lost faith in me."

The Polaris Engineering Company said last month it thinks the 41-year-old inventor's device can prevent aerial collisions by giving advance warning of other aircraft. It said the government is willing to put $5,000,000 into a development program, and Meukel would get three per cent or $150,000.

WINNIPEG—The Canadian Association of University Teachers' committee investigating the dismissal of Prof. Harry Crowe from United College began its hearings here. He was dismissed from the college following a dispute over a personal letter which reached college officials.

ROME—First hearing in a legal action which may free Ingrid Bergman to marry her new Swedish lover Lars Schmidt, is scheduled to be held here Oct. 27. Action is an appeal by the state prosecutor from an annulment granted Roberto Rossellini by a lower court in July.
